2 - What two or three elements of this course contributed most to your learning?

Response Rate 4/14 (28.57%)

- One element that contributed to my learning was the homework assignments, and the questions that were asked in class helped me understand the material better.
- In class examples
- coming to office hours helped me a lot and asking questions (even if its just a couple) I had been needing help with. Doing the problem set well and having a great professor also contributed to my learning.
- The first element was the fact that it was taught like it was more of a tutoring session with deeper explanations which I appreciated. Also the coverage of material when it came to assignments was useful as well in providing further understanding of the concepts.

3 - What two or three suggestions would you make to improve this course in the future?

Response Rate 4/14 (28.57%)

- My professor was good at taking feedback and fixing something that is not working.
- Do more of the math out but overall I understand this was a condensed course
- I have no improvements I enjoyed the class
- Make all assignments mandatory for submission. And then have the option to drop the lowest grade, especially since the grading is based on the addition of all assignment scores. I think it's a hinderance in grading when not all students have submitted the same amount of work.

4 - The following questions are specifically for Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences courses.
